* Everyone should say pesukei dezimra at home.
We will begin at the Barchu. It is essential that all who are planning to attend be at the synagogue at 9:30 for a minyan.

** For those lighting candles at home you are permitted to light candles early, keeping in mind that actual candle lighting time is later, so you can be at the Synagogue for Kol Nidre by 6:00 p.m.

Chabad at Bradley

Submitted by Rabbi Eli Langsam

Had two amazing shabbat dinners in September with one of the dinners in memory of the murder of the six hostages. The men put on tefillin and the women lit shabbat candles in their memory. There will be a brisket dinner on the first night of RH, shofar blowing on campus and a break the fast for YK. There are plans for pizza in the hut for sukkot and other events.

This past month, the preschoolers have been enjoying the delightful outdoor weather, making the most of their time in nature while expanding their knowledge in exciting new ways. Miss Jane, Miss Jenny, and Miss Lise have been guiding the children through interactive language lessons, introducing them to Spanish, Hebrew, and sign language.

The little ones are enthusiastically picking up new words and phrases, their minds soaking up the linguistic diversity like sponges.

The fun doesn't stop there! Miss Joan has been teaching them lively dance moves, keeping the kids active and engaged. Meanwhile, Dr. Halperin's Jewish history lessons have sparked curiosity, helping the children understand important cultural stories and traditions.

Miss Meghan is fostering a love for learning through a variety of secular subjects, including math, language, science, sensorial activities, and practical life skills. Hands-on activities make each lesson engaging and relevant.

A highlight of the week is baking with Miss Dina. The children have been creating delicious treats, practicing patience, and learning basic kitchen skills. Of course, everyone eagerly looks forward to the weekly Shabbat party, where they come together in joy and celebration.

Through it all, the preschoolers have formed strong friendships. They make each other laugh, support one another, and have created a warm, happy atmosphere that makes learning even more enjoyable. These little learners are thriving in every way!

Bradley Hillel

Started "Schmoozeday Tuesday" which is a coffee time for the students at the student center where we talk about any topic or questions about school life. We have started our Bagel Brunches every Sunday and we will begin a Jewish Learning Fellowship for 8 weeks about topics from the perspective of a Jewish Lens. Some topics will be the Jewish perspective on abortion, LGBTQ, women's rights, interfaith relationships and just real life. Shofar blowing will begin during the holidays with a delicious RH brisket dinner on the second night and a Kol Nidre dinner.

In preparation for sukkot, the students will build a sukkah with a hands on opportunity to learn how to make sushi and of course, eat in the sukkah.
